KEUKA HOTEL, a modern hotel of the smaller class, splendidly located upon the east shore of Lake Keuka, midway between Penn Yan to the north and Hammondsport to the south. The hotel stands on the shore of the lake. It commands a view of lake and hills for miles around in three directions and is easily accessible by way of Penn Yan, Hammondsport or Bath, then by steamboat or motor—affording the visitor a delightful ride of eleven miles on one of the most beautiful lakes in the world or a short motor trip over fine roads along its immediate shore

The KEUKA HOTEL is tastefully furnished—home-like atmosphere. It has every convenience, including steam heat, hot and cold running water, baths, electric lights and long distance telephone.

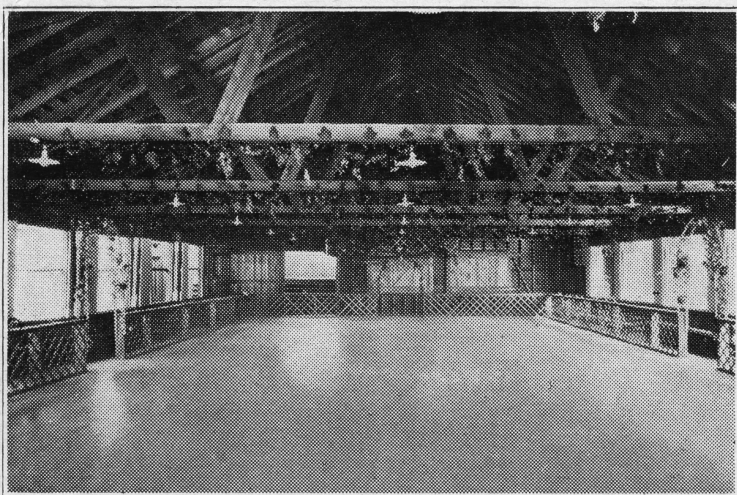

The

maintains its own electric lighting and power plant.

The hotel grounds and sea-wall are illuminated at night—adding a charm to rowing and canoeing in mid-evening, by the hotel guests and by members of the cottage colony whose homes dot the lake shore for many miles.

INTERIOR OF DANCE CASINO

SPORTS and recreations are legion on LAKE KEUKA. The KEUKA HOTEL is the acknowledged center of these activities. With many dancing makes a strong appeal. Here their desires are fully taken care of by good music and a commodious dance casino, which is built entirely over the water. All four sides of this attractive hall may be opened to the breeze.

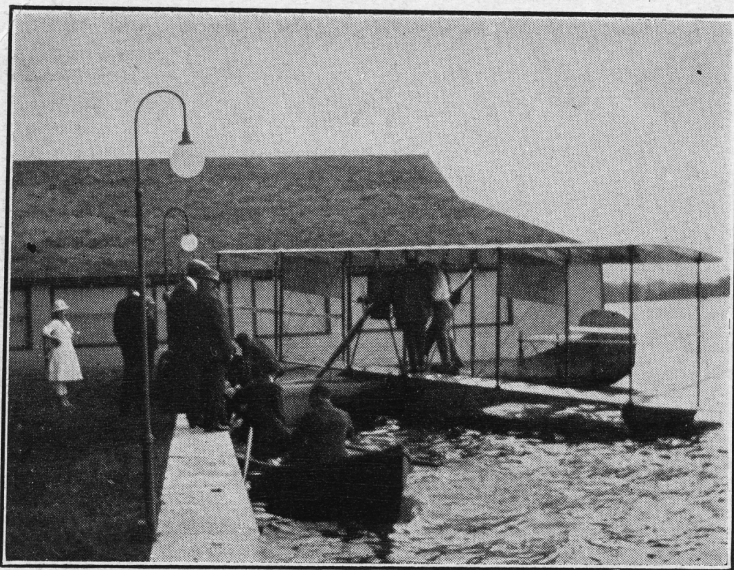

Under these unusual conditions the most ambitious terpsichorean can keep cool.

THE wide porches, the lawn, the beautiful shade trees, the shady walks and nooks and the rustic seats provide comfort, quiet and seclusion for those who require complete rest.

These features combined with the more active recreations such as sailing, motor boating, rowing, fishing and bathing, and the beautiful vistas of water and countryside make this spot one of the State's most charming resorts.

in these flights, especially so when the pilot's destination is the KEUKA HOTEL.

ONE of the largest and one of the most important Aeroplane and Hydroplane manufacturing concerns (Curtis) in the world is located at Hammondsport, 11 miles distant from the KEUKA HOTEL. Hence aviation is a feature of KEUKA'S many enjoyments.

It almost is a daily occurrence during the summer months, to see these aerial wonders soaring majestically over the lake or speeding over its rippling surface. Guests are always interested

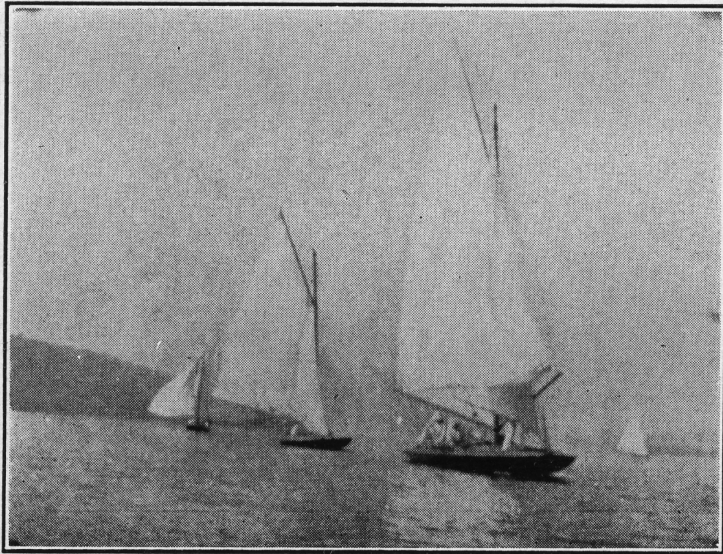

ROWING or canoeing is considered to be a safer but not so inspiring a sport as flying.

A boat livery is part of the equipment of KEUKA HOTEL.

This includes a high speed motor boat for cruising around the lake—giving hotel guests an opportunity and a means of visiting among other interesting places, the famous wine cellars in this district.

KEUKA HOTEL "CUP" RACES.

Lake Keuka has more than a local reputation for fast sailing craft.

It is state wide, as many crews from Central New York lakes will testify.

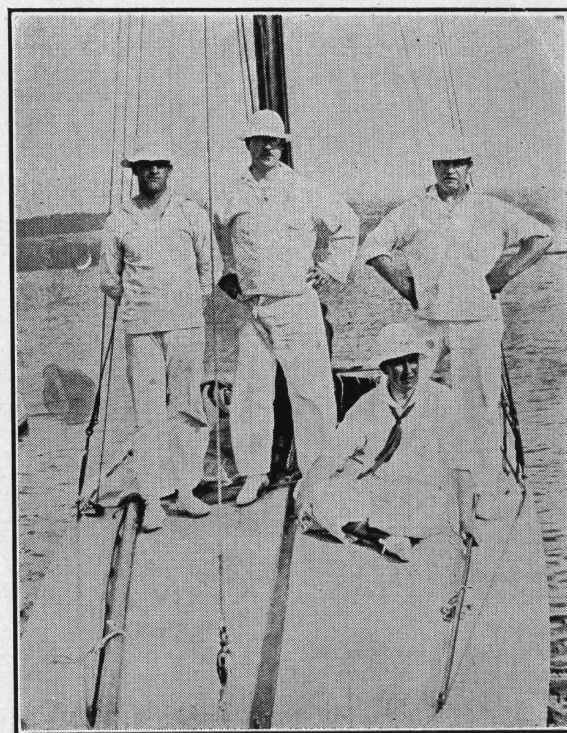

A type of sail boat—one of the speediest in any waters, originated in this section.

Sailing events are held on many occasions during the summer season, but the big events are the annual regatta, and the races for the KEUKA HOTEL cup.

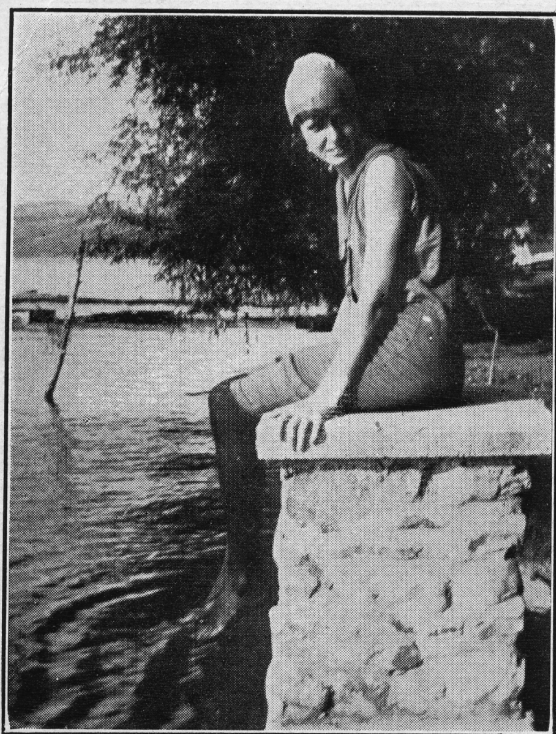

The cup race is over a triangular course—start and finish just off the hotel boat-landing.

The great rivalry existing among race boat owners and crews does not overshadow the wonderful enthusiasm manifested by the “exclusive” race day visitors.

The type of boat to which reference has been made has taken prizes on Seneca, Cayuga and other waters in this region of beautiful lakes.

A WINNER AND CREW

EARLY MORNING DIP

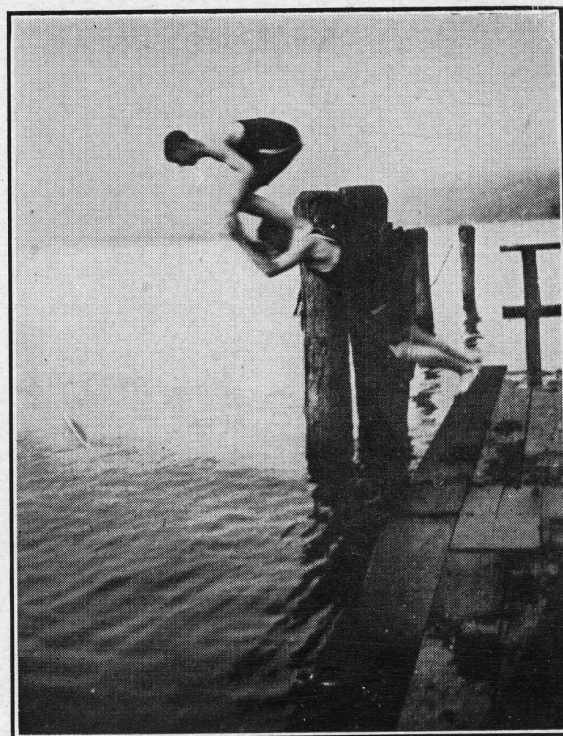

UNLIKE the ocean with its ever changing tide, its battering-ram-like surf and heavy undertow, fresh water bathing offers a safe, invigorating and healthful sport, one which is especially acceptable to women and children.

The gradually sloping beach at this resort is a constant source of enjoyment to those who are not classed as good swimmers and to children who find enjoyment in wading and in sailing toy boats.

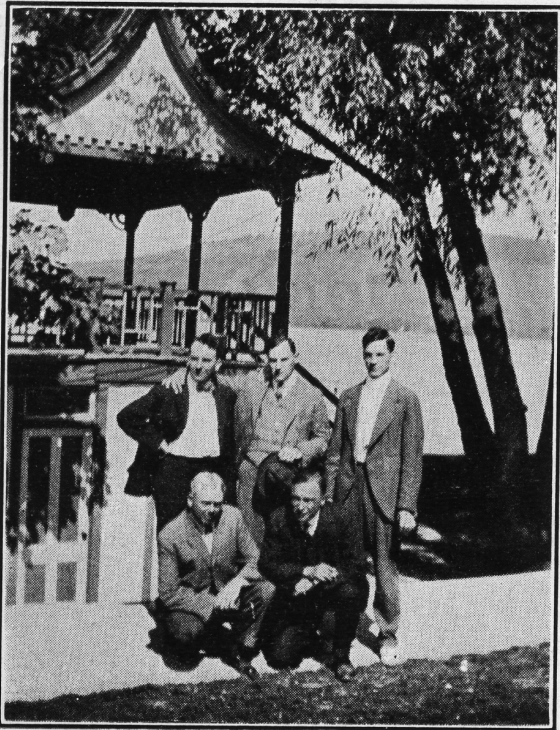

THE diver and swimmer are not neglected. For here are provided float, diving pier and water toboggan. The influences of KEUKA'S sunny skies and lake breezes are appreciated by the persistent "water-dog" and athlete in that it requires but a few days to transform a fair skin to one of nut brown.

Referring to the bird's-eye view on second cover of this booklet, it will be noted that, LAKE KEUKA, in shape, is like the letter "Y". Bluff Point is the center of the Y, and is one mile distant and directly opposite the KEUKA HOTEL. Its elevation is the highest in this section of the state, a section that is noted for its beautiful hills, valleys, and vineyards.

A view from Bluff Point is one that will long be remembered by the visitor.

A GOOD BOOK IS HERE ENJOYED

MANY parts of the United States have become celebrated on account of their "possessing" mineral springs.

Situated in close proximity to the hotel is a sulphur spring of clear, cold, running water.

This water has remedial properties and is drunk by those who are familiar with its medicinal value.

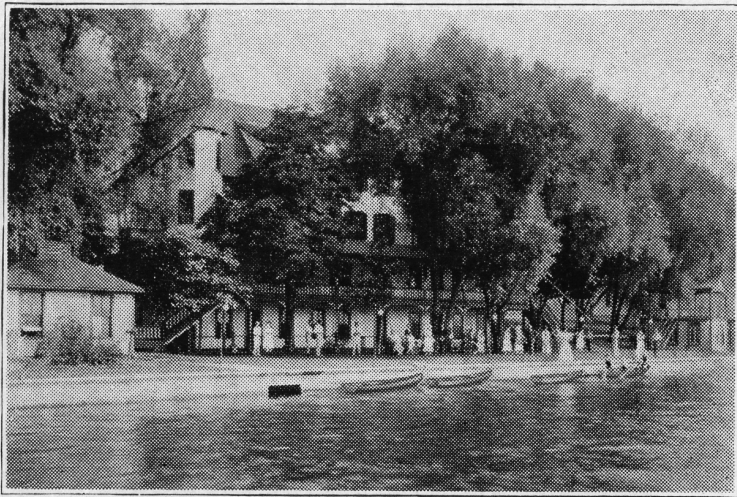

This district is considered to be entirely free from malaria. There are no swamp-lands—no mosquitoes.

THE less strenuous sports are here represented in cross-country riding and in motoring. A canter over hill and down dale—through shaded groves or along the lake shore are experiences which many enjoy—contributing to health, happiness and long life.

A number of the largest cities in New York State are within a few hours' motor trip from this hotel. The guests will find numerous places of more than ordinary interest to visit. Watkins Glen is made in an hour's run. Ithaca, the seat of Cornell University, is about two and one-half hours distant. Stable accommodations and a large garage are part of KEUKA HOTEL'S equipment. A tennis court and croquet grounds are provided for lovers of these sports.

OUT FOR CROSS-COUNTRY RIDE

KEUKA HOTEL FROM LAKE

LAKE KEUKA has a reputation for its fine fishing. The principal fishing grounds are opposite the KEUKA HOTEL, off Bluff Point, about fifteen minutes' row from the hotel.

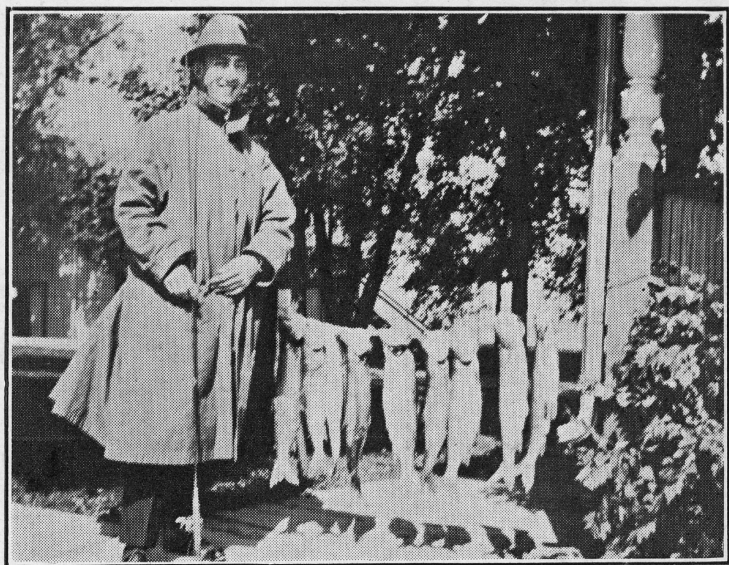

Lake trout are in abundance, black bass, perch and pickerel are also caught. Hundreds of pounds of lake trout are caught by experienced fishermen every day. There's an old saying, "It takes a 'fisherman' to catch a trout." In these waters the amateur, if he is equipped with a regulation "Seth Green" rig, will run a close second to the professional nimrod in landing these lake beauties.

KEUKA HOTEL has multiplied by each succeeding year its reputation for good, wholesome food.

Lake trout, fresh caught daily, vegetables from the hotel garden, fresh laid eggs, milk and spring chickens from the hotel farm, old fashioned maple-smoked hams and bacon and the choicest meats, fine fruits, the best grades of tea and coffee, all are served in a dainty dining room overlooking the lake.
